LOOKING at the NEWS with Col. Hugh Clark

THE owner of several duplex houses in a Canadian city complains that "half of them is vacant." We hear the same complaint about duplex envelopes.

It took Britain a long time to discard free trade, but it took longer to discard protection. There were years of agitation, featured by riots before Peel switched and wrecked his party to repeal the corn laws. Even that was a measure of protection for manufacturers who were faced with the necessity of raising wages or reducing food prices. Cobden himself, was a calico printer and Bright was the son of a Quaker who had accumulated a fortune making carpets. But the circumstance that influenced Peel most was the failure of the potato crop and the danger of famine in Ireland. Sean O'Kelly might offset this act against one of his ancestral grievances against England.

The dispute between Britain and the Irish Free State about land annuities has been brought nearer solution, says an Ottawa dispatch, by reason of the fact that Hon. J. H. Thomas played bridge with Free State delegates. The dispatch does not disclose whether it was auction or contract.

It is all very well to say that the man who makes no mistakes makes nothing. In themselves mistakes have no merit and often do harm to others. They are profitless except to the extent to which they increase the sum total of useful experience.

One of the resolutions passed by the Native Sons of Canada, recommended the publication of all official documents in French as well as English. Aside from the expense entailed, there lies the objection that it offers no inducement to persons who speak only one language to learn another. Hansard is printed in both languages, but would it not be better if French speeches were printed in French only and English speeches in English only? It would reduce printing costs enormously, eliminate a staff of translators, and induce persons who speak English only to learn French and persons who speak French only to learn English, although the latter do not require the same incentive as the former.

A New Brunswick man tells of a Baptist clergyman watching the fishermen unloading their day's catch from the boats to the fish houses. "What sort of fish are they?" he asked.

"We call them Baptists," said one of the fishermen.
"Indeed. And why do you call them by that name?"
"Because they spoil so soon after being taken out of the water."

There are indications of improvement in conditions, but flurries on Wall Street are not to be taken as symptoms. There were recent flurries in the shares of railways merely because

Outstanding Features for Vulcan Theatre

Announcement of fall bookings for the Vulcan theatre were recently made by C. R. Robson, manager, and revealed many of the latest released screen attractions.

Patrons of the local theatre will have the opportunity of seeing talking pictures from Paramount, Fox, Metro-Goldwyn, Warner Bros. and First National studios. These include the Liberty magazine four-star pictures, "The Champ" with Wallace Beery, and Ernest Lubitch's "The Broken Lullaby" with Lionel Barrymore. Other attractions are: Will Rogers in "As Young as You Feel"; Joe E. Brown in "The Tenderfoot"; and "Local Boy Makes Good"; "The Phantom of Paris" featuring John Gilbert; Paramount's surprise picture "This is the Night"; "Alias the Doctor," with Richard Barthelmess; "Private Lives" featuring Robert Montgomery; and Wallace Beery in "Hell Divers."

"Play Girl," "The Expert," "The Rainbow Trail," "The Miracle Man," and "Arsene Lupin" are among the list to be shown.

These motion pictures along with the current short subjects should leave nothing to want on the local screen.

GRADER AND CAR TANGLE

Tuesday morning on the highway north of Vulcan saw the grader tangle with a touring car travelling north. The smaller vehicle came out the worst but the damage done was slight and no injuries were received by the driver, although a nasty shaken up was given.

RAINFALL FOR AUGUST

Official record of the rainfall for the month of August was 2½ inches in Vulcan and surrounding territory. This information was supplied the Advocate by Geo. McMann, local manager for the Searle Grain Company, who has a standard rain gauge supplied by the company and now installed for the past month.

VULCAN W. I. MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Vulcan Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. R. Gold on Friday, Sept. 3rd. The meeting was opened by Mrs. A. T. Martin, who occupied the chair.

Routine business matters were attended to and the visiting committee reported on relief work done during the past month. A delegate was appointed to attend the constituency conference to be held at Brant on September 27th.

Arrangements were made and committees appointed to entertain visiting Institutes on Friday, October 7th. The feature of the afternoon was a very interesting paper on "Canning" given by Mrs. Martin. This was thoroughly enjoyed as was the paper entitled Current Events, given by Mrs. E. J. Loxton.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. Gold and Mrs. C. Lambert.

PARTIAL ECLIPSE VISIBLE AT VULCAN

Everyone was out with smoked glasses, viewing the eclipse on Wednesday, August 31 at noon. The results were rather more than was anticipated here, as the big show was booked for eastern Canada and northern Atlantic States. The eclipse showed through the glass like a well fed crescent, and was quite visible, such as it was.

Scientists congregated at Montreal from all over the world to view the total eclipse in eastern Canada, reported their reactions over the radio. They expressed thanks to the C.P.R., the ministers of government, to Canadian scientists, and practically everything but the weather. The cloudy skies prevented the complete success of the occasion from a scientific standpoint.

The story of the eclipse as it was told by different speakers over the radio, ranged in the telling, from measured scientific remarks, to a running story that sounded very much like a good hockey game. Apparently it was a thrilling experience to those who could grasp its full importance.

WRESTLING MATCH BOOKED AT VULCAN

Jack Taylor, Canadian Heavyweight Wrestling Champion at Vulcan

Jack Taylor, Canadian and Empire heavyweight wrestling champion, has been booked through his manager Joe Zabaw of Calgary, to appear in the main event against Joe Kotelmach of Saskatoon, at Vulcan on Saturday, September 17th. Arrangements were made locally by "Tex" McInnes and the wrestling is to be held under auspices of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. Vulcan branch.

The definite arrangements were completed on Wednesday morning with a complete card of well known wrestlers.

For the semi-windup, Steve Soltee of Calgary and Bill Hamilton of Calgary, are matched and on the preliminary event, Billy Wells of Winnipeg and Don Ferguson of Calgary.

All the wrestlers are well known to sport fans in Vulcan who follow the "grunt and growl" game in the daily sport pages and two have visited this town before.

This promotion in Vulcan should be well received by the public as something new and different for it has been twelve years since wrestling was last witnessed.

The Vulcan arena will be re-seated and installed with all necessary fixtures for the match.

"Bob" Stephens of Calgary Herald staff, sends us the dope on the contestants and we pass it on to our readers:

Jack Taylor, the "pet hate" of Calgary wrestling addicts, who headlines next Saturday night's all-star mat card with Joe Kotelmach, is one of the greatest showmen in the modern form of all in wrestling. His roughhouse tactics have been responsible for the defeat of such well-known stars as Stanley Pinta, Stan Zbyszko, John Freberg, Moose Nordegg, Al Rumberg, Axel Andersen, Reginald Siki and Joe "Bull" Komar. His only defeats in the last year were at the hands of Ed. "Strangler" Lewis who took two falls out of three at Seattle after a hectic bout, and Wendeck Zbyszko who got the decision when Taylor slugged him senseless in a recent Calgary bout. Taylor claims the Canadian and British Empire championships and bars no one. He is always in the pink of condition and never fails to provide a hair-raising display.

Joe Kotelmach of Saskatoon, has only made one appearance in a Calgary ring. He has youth on his side is something of an adonis and is as

Who will be seen in a wrestling card sponsored by the Vulcan branch of Canadian Legion, in the Vulcan arena, on Saturday, September 17. His opponent will be Joe Kotelmach, of Saskatoon. Taylor comes from Calgary and holds the Canadian championship in the heavyweight "grunt and growl" artists.

VOTERS' LIST

The recent notice by the officials of the town by advertisement in these columns to relatives of persons on the assessment roll and to tenants for the compilation of the next voters' list has created much interest and many have voiced the taking of advantage of these provisions of the Town Act. Applications according to the stipulations are received at the office of the secretary-treasurer.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday, August 31st in the United Church manse, at Champion, when Sarah Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Lent of Vulcan was united in marriage with Albert Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Howerton of Champion. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Peter Dawson. The couple will reside in the Vulcan district.

CHURCH OF CHRIST NOTES

Services at the Church of Christ, Vulcan, will be observed at the usual hours. Bible school at 10:30 a.m. with classes for all ages. The topic for the morning service is yet to be selected. The young people will commence their Christian Endeavor hour at 7 o'clock p.m. At eight o'clock the regular song and praise service will be held, followed by the preaching of a timely message.

Well Known in Vulcan

Known in Vulcan as travelling solicitor of the Calgary Herald for many years, J. F. Charlton, aged 58 years, passed away suddenly at his residence in Calgary.

Mr. Charlton made many friends throughout the district and only two weeks ago, was a visitor in town, calling on his acquaintances.

He joined the staff of the Calgary Herald in March 1915 as member of the circulation department.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Susan B. Charlton, he is survived by three sons and one daughter.

AUSTRALIAN ORANGES ON SALE AT LOCAL STORES

For the first time in Vulcan, Australian oranges were offered for sale and advertised last week. These are of good size and of delicious flavour, and are as good in quality as the Californian oranges. Vulcan food shops are boosting the sale of this fruit thus encouraging the slogan "Buy within the Empire."

September Session Vulcan Town Council

The Vulcan town council met in regular monthly session on Tuesday evening at the municipal office. Mayor Butchart presided with Councillors King, McLaggan, Ulrich, Brown and Wolfe present. Councillor Allan was absent during the first hour of the meeting. Secretary-treasurer A. J. Flood and Constable Weale were also present.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and after discussion of minor details were passed.

Communication was read from the Vulcan branch of the Canadian Legion asking for a grant. On motion by Councillor King the letter was filed.

An application from Wm. Dobson under the Farm Settlement Plan was read. A. J. Flood explained the plan and discussion followed. Moved by Councillor Brown that the application be held over until the next meeting. Motion carried.

The following accounts were read: Imperial Hotel, $200; Dr. G. M. Carson, $29.00; Dr. Carson $2.00; Dr. Carson $5.00; Dr. Carson $1.00; Stuckey's Service Station $5.00; Vulcan Advocate $22.70; John Wolfe $9.40; W. E. Butchart $5.00; Brown's Garage $4.45; T. B. LeBow $9.00; C. W. May $40.40. After discussion over these accounts it was moved by Councillor Wolfe that with the exception of the bill of C. W. May, that they be accepted and paid. Motion carried.

A request was made to the council that a cinder or gravel walk from the Clarkson corner to the school buildings be made.

Discussion was held over this and it was decided that a walk was needed more from Howes' corner to the school, this being in direct line and more-used than the street, made in the request. The motion of Councillor Wolfe that the public works dept. look after the building of a cinder walk from the Howes' corner to the school as soon as possible, was carried.

A request was made asking the cost of license to operate a cabaret in the town of Vulcan. On motion by King, the license fee for the dance floor was set at $25.00 and in addition the required restaurant business tax would be added for that section of the building.

Robert Brown made an appeal to the council to consider the Tax Consolidation Act as recently passed by legislation on behalf of the ratepayers. Dr. McLiment was heard on the same matter. Tax consolidation was then fully explained and the Act read by secretary, A. J. Flood. Discussion on this important question held sway for considerable time.

Moved by King that a by-law be drawn up incorporating the Tax Consolidation Act 1932. Motion carried.

The first reading of the by-law was carried unanimously on motion of King. The second and third readings were carried on the motions of Allan and Brown.

Other routine business was dealt with and the council were busy until a late hour, discussing matters of minor nature.

ADVOCATE TAKES WHEAT FOR PAY

As announced last week the Vulcan Advocate accepts wheat at 66 2-3 cents per bushel in payment of subscriptions. Three bushels of wheat for one year's subscription. This is available to bonafide farmers in Alberta only, and can be accepted only for one year in advance. Wheat will be taken for old arrears, renewals or new accounts. Three bushels of No. 1 Northern, is equivalent to a $2.00 account or 3½ bushels of No. 2 Northern.

Credit will be given, upon receipt of a graded storage ticket from any Alberta elevator, made out to the credit of the Vulcan Advocate.

For the complete schedule of wheat quantities and grades to cover accounts of $2.00, $4.00, $6.00, etc., readers are referred to the advertisement on page 6 of this issue.

This wheat payment plan promises to be popular. A number have already availed themselves of this simple method of renewing or covering arrears. And from general comment it is anticipated that many farmers will take up the offer.

Only the prompt action of nearby people with chemical apparatus from the elevators, saved the truck and contents. Cause was due to the back-firing of the engine.

There is on display in the windows of Jenkins' Groceries, an exceptionally large pumpkin grown on the farm of J. Love in the Red Cross district. This vegetable weighs 29¼ lbs., and Mr. Love tells of one larger that he had. The misfortune of breaking befell that and it could not therefore be displayed. Can anyone beat a district grown pumpkin weighing 29¼ lbs.?

UNREADY TO WORK

From different parts of the country, there come complaints of workers in the harvest fields. Not that they are rebellious, but that they quit without reason, after a few days' work. It is impossible to say how general this experience is, but several have stated that men are more undependable so far as "staying with the job" is concerned than they have been in other years.

If this is true, it is not surprising. In fact it would be surprising if it were not true. Direct relief or hoboing, build up habits of irresponsibility and casual living. For three years now, men have been permitted to roam over the country, picking up a few days work here and there, earning enough only for immediate needs, in the conviction that somehow they will be fed. At first no doubt they were in bitter revolt against being obliged to accept direct relief, or being unable to find steady work. But insidiously, after three years of haphazard, aimless living they have come to accept conditions, and to dislike the bondage of steady unremitting labor. After a day or two in the haying camp or the harvest field, they have earned enough for a little tobacco and sundries and are ready to move on. For one thing, they are possibly physically unready to leap into high powered physical labor, and for another their mental and physical stamina must be slipping.

No human being could go through the experience through which these wanderers have gone, without deteriorating, and in all probability the country is just beginning to reap the consequences of the past two years.

Amongst these unemployed are thousands who are intelligent and worthy. They have demonstrated an honesty and patience quite equal to those more fortunately situated. But their abilities, physically and mentally are bound to slacken with disuse.

If these citizens are to be redeemed for useful citizenship, they must come under a program of organization and work, far different from any policy yet launched. They must be moulded into the discipline of regular living, before their case becomes hopeless.

SEASONAL WOES

"Man is born to trouble as the spark fly upward." Some might think the saying had been coined to fit the state of mind of Alberta farmers during harvest season. All the whims of nature seem to concentrate on ripening grain, and it is a rare season, when grain is cut, stooked and threshed without a good deal of worry and apprehension.

This year, the uncertainties which have visited the farmer have been trying. First, with the extreme heat, he feared hail. Hail did not come but instead came a series of rain storms, catching wheat in every stage of unpreparedness. Then the touch of frost, which may not have done great harm, but caused many wakeful hours.

This worrying is not a new experience. Almost every season there is the usual anxiety about hail, rain, snow or frost. Albertans fall automatically into line, as the middle of August approaches, taking up their annual worries in accustomed fashion.

Some of the more light hearted amongst us, say that the crop is always harvested, so why worry. This may be true in a large way, but nobody forgets the multiplied labor involved after a snowfall. No one forgets that frost has on different occasions cost money in grade. There have been years when the crop has not been threshed until spring. In the years when these minor calamities did befall people were in no such need as they are today.

This season, the harvest is immensely important. No farmer can afford to spend one extra dollar on labor. He cannot calmly contemplate the thought of a reduced grade, and he cannot afford to wait till spring to realize on his crop. It is a year in which worry, though not helpful is undoubtedly understandable. The safe harvesting of the crop, has never been of so much importance to individuals and the public generally as this year.

It is hoped that nature will dismiss her cruel moods, and will favor the country with a clear kind brand of uninterrupted threshing weather.

I LIKE PROSPERITY

Everyone by this time is familiar with the article "I like Depression," which has gone the rounds of the press until the original writer has been lost in the whirl. It was an article which had the merit of looking on the bright side, making the best of things, and so on. In that lay its appeal.

It is human nature to make the best of things. Man is incurably cheerful. If it were not for a continual striving to see the silver lining in the darkest cloud, he would never get over the frequent and disastrous storms that beset him.

But to face facts, nobody likes depression. When a man made condition rises which bows the shoulders, brings wrinkles of care, drives people to despair, and tends to make them small and carping, it is not good. When the majority are distractedly struggling to gather in a few dollars, not to spend on themselves, but to turn over to creditors, it is not a happy state. When life revolves solely about the wherewithal to maintain existence, it may develop thrift. But thrift is, after all, only one of the lesser virtues, to which others much more charming and worthy of development, are sacrificed.

For that reason it is much more cheering to read the thoughts of a writer in the Weyburn Press who says frankly: "I like prosperity." So do we. Personally, we never had much of it, but the general atmosphere is pleasanter when prosperity reigns.

The writer gives his reasons: "I used to be able to get out the flivver and take the family and the neighbor's family out to the lake or in to the circus. Now the flivver has no license and no tires, so we have to stay home."

"I don't like this horde of tramps we have around. There are three kinds, first the ordinary bum who never did work; second, the unfortunate whose condition is directly traceable to the depression and who blushes every time he has to ask for a meal; third, the young fellow who is just getting the habit of tramping. This depression is not good for any of them, and because I have to feed them from my meagre store, it isn't good for me."

"I would like to keep up my fees in my one service club. In prosperity, we were always in funds. We were able to have kiddies' legs straightened, to give them holidays, to get artificial limbs for accident victims. How we loved to brighten sad lives. Now we cannot do these things we used to do. I like prosperity."

"I like to hear and see the factory wheels spinning, to see the contented faces of workmen in honest secure employment, to see them indulge their families in education and recreation. These are the people who have made Canada a clean and noble country."

"I like prosperity, I hate to see prominent men spending their time in selfish pleasures, at the same time grinding down those who work for them. I don't like to see that, but it is happening. I don't like the depression, when that is the effect produced, but I do like prosperity—for all."

AGRICULTURE IN B. C.

In an editorial in the Cowichan Leader, the writer points to certain glaring waste of public money in agricultural administration. The article says:

"Admitted that under present economic conditions, some government assistance should go to the farming industry in the way of research or direct grants to pioneer undertakings. But we still maintain that farming, like other industries should stand on its own feet and run its own show in marketing."

"Let us examine the Kidd report which reduces agricultural grants to $87,000. So far so good. But in the allocation, $5,500 is allocated to bee inspection, $20,000 for the larger fairs, $25,000 for the U.B.C. faculty of agriculture and $36,500 for carrying on agricultural affairs under market commissioners."

"Now the bee industry is two fifths of 1 per cent. of the value of agricultural production and it gets 6.3 per cent. of the total grant."

"One quarter of the grant goes to assist Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster to run exhibitions which each year have less and less to do with agriculture and are well able to stand on their feet. No grants at all are to be made to small fairs. If any fair deserves grants is it not the small community gathering on our frontiers?"

"The University B.C. gets more than a quarter of the grant. This expense, if inevitable, would more properly come out of a separate fund for scientific research affecting all provincial assets."

"The recommendation that market commissioners should carry on agricultural administration of the province is an illustration of where business men may err when it comes to government. The present department of agriculture cries loud for reform."

UNNECESSARY TO FEED TRANSIENTS

Heavy Burden Assumed by Private Householders, Not Obligatory

During the past few weeks the town has experienced a great rush of the transient unemployed. These men waiting for work in the country, have been very frequent callers at the various homes in the town, particularly at homes in the down town section. They have been generously fed by almost everyone from whom they have asked food, and the cost of all these meals, if totalled up would probably be surprising.

Authorities however, state that this condition should not exist. The men likely to be hired in this district, are now pretty well taken up and others have no reason for remaining in the town. No one should feel it obligatory to provide food. In fact from one standpoint, the policy of feeding transients, is apt to react in encouraging many to remain, who would otherwise wander back to their original starting point, or to other work fields. From that viewpoint, it would probably be a wiser plan to refuse to feed anyone.

This, however, is too much to expect. It is the rare householder who would refuse a hungry man a meal. But when the demands reach the proportions of the past few weeks, it might indicate that this town is listed as "good pickings." And the result is apt to be more to feed as time goes on. This would eventually make things difficult for the police, the council and towns people themselves.

However it is a personal matter. The point is that the feeding of the men must not be regarded as a duty. Those actually wanting work are at present working. There are some who do not want work so long as they can chisel meals and it is not a good policy to encourage chiselling. The men do not belong to the town, and should not be a charge either on the council or on private citizens.

There are two classes that will hurt any town—peddlers and maddlers, remarks the St. Marys Journal Argus.

CROP NEVER FAILS TO GET HARVESTED

The Lethbridge Herald, having heard frequent doubts and fears as to whether or not this crop will ever be taken off, has a word of comfort. The writer delves back into the past and finds that many previous years have exhibited eccentricities of weather, that have been very wearing on the folks who depend, either directly or indirectly, on getting the crop safely threshed. The Herald says:

Think of years gone by and quit worrying. The crop always has been harvested.

Since we began to grow considerable wheat in these Southern Alberta prairies back about 1905 or 1906, we have had fall seasons that were just about as atrocious from a harvesting standpoint as one could imagine. Remember 1907. Along about the 10th September it began to snow, and before it let up there was a blanket of two or three feet of snow over all the grain fields. Yet the crop was harvested, and it was a pretty good crop too.

Then in 1911 it rained and rained. There was a big crop, but August brought 3.63 inches of rain, while September followed with 4.16 inches, of which over two inches fell on Labor Day. Then frost came and caught the green wheat, and there was a lot of it that graded about No. 4 or feed—worth, even in those far-away days, more than our No. 1 hard is worth at the elevator today. The elevators were bursting with wet wheat, and there was a big shortage of cars, so that farmers and everybody else were damning the C. P. R. But we got the crop harvested.

Then came 1916 with one of the biggest crops we ever took off; worth more cash money than any crop in the history of Southern Alberta. It rained 2.97 inches in August, 4.66 inches in September, and 1.99 inches in October. But the crop was cut and threshed, and the land was flowing in milk and honey and flivvers.

Let's pass lightly over the dry spell that came along towards the end of the war—days of painful memory when we had little crop and only hoped it would rain and rain so that we could reassure ourselves that it could rain again in this country. It was 1926 before we had a wet fall again with 2.31 inches rain in August and 4.62 inches in September. But October turned out very dry, and the crop was threshed and marketed. Again, business as usual.

The fall of 1927 capped the climax. We had a good crop and the price was up around $1.50 a bushel, at the opening of the season, but it rained and rained—1.74 in August, 3.29 in September, October fairly dry, but systematically showery; enough so that the grain couldn't either be cut or threshed, and then November came along with 2.88 inches of moisture in the form of snow and rain. Most of the grain which was threshed that fall graded No. 3 tough or worse. A lot of it wasn't cut at all, and a lot more stood in the stook or in swaths all winter. But Nature came to our aid with a very dry spring, with the result that harvesting, threshing and sowing the new crop were operations being carried on, on the same farm at one time. But wheat had gone up from $1.20 in the fall to $1.50 in the spring; the spring-threshed grain graded No. 3 straight, and the farmers who had cursed their luck because they couldn't thresh in the fall were saying what fools they were for luck because they simply had to wait to thresh in the spring.

So keep the old upper lip stiff. The crop is always harvested when we have a crop to harvest.

CARRY OVER IS REDUCED

From Ottawa comes the good news that the carry-over of wheat at the end of the crop year. July 31, was 130,948,901 bushels, as compared with 134,078,963 at the same time last year or a reduction of 4,000,000 bushels. This is good news. Things are looking better for the western grower this year. His 1932 crop prospects are excellent, despatches from the prairies show. Then, as has been pointed out, the Russian situation is much less disturbing than was the case a year ago. The Russian crop is down, officially admitted so by the Soviet authorities. This means, of course, that Russia will not be the serious competitor in the world market that she has been in the past. Consequently, prices should be substantially higher. Higher prices, even slightly higher, mean much to the west, and, therefore, to all of Canada. An increase of 1 cent. a bushel will mean about 4 million extra dollars for the west. A good crop and a good price for western wheat almost invariably has resulted in making general business good in this country. —Exchange.

Would You Cook An Unwashed Potato?

YOU would not think of serving potatoes or other vegetables from the garden without thoroughly washing them. Why use flour made from unwashed wheat?

If you were to examine a grain of wheat under a magnifying glass, you would find it covered with dirt and bacteria similar to the soil and scab which adhere to a potato when it comes from the hill. The "crease" of the kernel holds dirt with a tenacity that requires scrubbing and scouring such as you use to clean the skin and eyes of a potato.

Good wheat may look clean, but you should visit one of the great modern mills of Robin Hood and see their huge washing machines at work, each one using 100,000 gallons of water every 24 hours. See with your own eyes, and feel with your own hands the yellow mud and fibrous waste which is washed from the wheat before it is milled into Robin Hood flour.

Flour made from unwashed wheat has a dark color and the foreign material which it contains gives a bad taste to your bread. Robin Hood flour, made from washed wheat, is white in color and gives a rich flavor to your bread, cakes and pastry. It is the safe, sensible flour for your home.

STUDY THIS PICTURE— THEN THINK

The difference in cost between CLEAN, PURE Robin Hood flour, and CHEAP, poorly milled flour is only 1c PER DAY FOR A FAMILY OF FOUR.

As announced last week, The Vulcan Advocate will pay 66 2/3¢ per bushel for Wheat (Basis No. 1 Northern) at your elevator. It is hardly necessary to explain that this offer is made to enable the subscribers to pay up their arrears at a rate on the dollar commensurate with the current price of wheat. The plan, the Advocate believes, will be widely acclaimed as a very generous and fair.

The 66^{2/3}¢ Plan Applies to Payment of Arrears and New Subscriptions

On any transaction in connection with NEW or RENEWALS or on OLD ARREARS account, A BUSHEL OF No. 1 NORTHERN WHEAT will be accepted at the value of 66 2/3 Cents. Lower grades will also be accepted on this basis, as per schedule shown below, which shows the equivalent of $2.00 in each grade:

CREDIT WILL BE GIVEN AT ABOVE RATES, UPON RECEIPT OF GRADED STORAGE TICKET MADE OUT TO THE CREDIT OF THE VULCAN ADVOCATE—WE DO NOT ACCEPT A WHEAT SETTLEMENT ON ANY OTHER BASIS.

For convenience of subscribers, the following schedule shows the various quantities of wheat which will settle accounts of $2, $4, $6, $8. If your account is in arrears just estimate your arrears by referring to your address label. If it shows two years in arrears and you wish to pay this, together with a year in advance, your total payment will be $6.00. Refer to the column headed "$6.00" and store amount of grain called for, according to the grade you are receiving.

BETTER TONE SAYS BANK OF MONTREAL

Shipping Better Than Last Season;
More Export Trade Rising

Although no definite improvement has yet appeared in the volume of Canadian trade, a better tone pervades business circles and greater activity is in sight, according to the business summary of the Bank of Montreal, issued recently.

Full average crops are assured, says the report. Wheat crops in the prairie provinces will run 100,000,000 bushels more than last year and low harvesting costs will be helpful to farmers and all branches of business. Except for hay, crops in other provinces are excellent. Live stock prices are low, but marketings are large and the dairy industry maintains a normal output with recent advances in the price of cheese and butter.

Most manufacturers continue slight but shipping is better than last season; more grain has passed through Montreal; more British coal is being imported and a stronger autumn business is expected.

The report points to the general hardening of commodity prices as an encouraging sign. Export trade for July was higher than in any month since December. Imports were down increasing Canada's favorable trade balance.

More confident feeling with a rise in commodity prices is reported for both the United Kingdom and the United States.

strong as an ox. Taylor will have his work cut out to pin this strapping German who promises to go places in the sport. He has defeated two smart heavies in bill Gladios and Buck Olsen.

Steve Soltice is a Calgary-born cauliflower and a great favorite. Has only been once defeated in ten starts and then only because he had wrestled on successive nights. Some of his victims are Tom Knudson, Mike Bilinski, Tom O'Brien, Alex. Boytzan, Gene Lauder and Mel Crowe. Is the fastest man to perform in Calgary and exploits the famous flying football tackle. Has usually to concede weight but has speed and wonderful agility compensate.

Billy Hamilton should make an ideal opponent for Soltice. Made his professional debut in Calgary recently and held Billy Wells, a much more experienced opponent, to a 30 minute draw after a wild and woolly bout. Is a natural wrestler and is never afraid to mix it.

Don Ferguson, Calgary, is the well known Calgary referee; ex amateur middle weight champion of Alberta; an experienced and very clever wrestler. Can engage in the rough tactics as well as produce a high class brand of the orthodox.

Billy Wells of Winnipeg, is undefeated here in three starts. A box of tricks and usually gets the fans in an uproar with his unruly tactics. Learned the game in Australia where they like 'em tough.

Over a pot of tea the final agreements at Ottawa were consummated. Tea is a great solvent although it failed signally at Boston, but our neighbors who make such excellent coffee are not so happy in tea brewing, so it was not a bad idea to dump it in the harbor. In England it smooths the path to bargains and the settlement of bridge scores. A journal published in 1658 makes the first known reference to the beverage. It says: "That excellent and by all physicians approved China drink called by the Chinese Tea, by other nations Tay, alias Tee." Pepys drank it first on Sept. 25, 1660, and notes in his diary: "Afterwards I did send for a cup of tee (a China drink) of which I never had drank before." Seven years later, he refers to it again, spelling it as we do now: "By coach home, and there I find my wife making of tea which Mr. Pelling, the Pottery, tells her is good for her cold and defuxions." We doubt its efficacy for colds and defuxions, but for the part it played in the affairs of empire, here's to the cup that cheers but not inebriates!
